Sam, Elio, and Aaron:

Over the past few years the Linganore High School Concert Choir has had the honor of being invited to perform with The Sicilian Tenors to kick off the holiday season. I can't tell you how much this has meant to me, the students, our school and the community at large. Your willingness to reach out to these students to give them this performance opportunity serves a great purpose in their education and in their life experience. I am honored that you would ask us back year after year to enjoy what is becoming a grand tradition in our community.

The students and parents have told me that this experience is one they look forward to not only because it is a chance to perform and hear great music, but they have also enjoyed working with the three of you so much. You are all so warm and encouraging to the students. You make them feel at home on the stage. They love listening to great voices and you give them such a good example of artistry, professionalism, and warmth. I can't say enough about the positive impact that this opportunity has had on my program and on each and every student that has been on the stage with you.

I look forward to next year and hope that we continue to perform together. I wish you all the best on your upcoming album and on the rest of your concert season.

Sincerely,

Damon L. Dye
